

The training

- provides information on the content and consequences of the policy using practical examples and simulations.
- supports the participants in identifying sexualized discrimination and harassment.
- describes the possibilities and contact points which the Max Planck Society provides for protection against sexualized misconduct.

The training

- is aimed at everyone in the Max Planck Society.
- takes about 25 minutes.
- is available in German and English.
- can also be attended with subtitles.
- can be heard in summarized version as an audio message (for people with visual handicaps).

The training is to be found in the Max Planck Learning Management System (LMS). To access it, you have to log on to the Max Planck Society intranet <https://max.mpg.de> and select the button Learning Platform of the Planck Academy.

In the LMS, go to the "Training Center" button and enter "Fehlverhalten" in the field "Suche". Select "Elementdetails" directly above the title image. Now select "Mir zuweisen" and then "Kurs beginnen". Now you only have to choose the language and you can start the training.